U-turn on parking

Workers forced to wait for extra spaces after council drives down numbers

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Council has backtracked on its promise to 'immediately' create 2,000 temporary parking spaces in the city centre for workers.

Melanie Beck, the city centre manager who represents businesses in CMK, has told MK NEWS that the council has only been able to offer 1,000 of the 2,000 spaces previously promised as it can no longer utilise the land it had earmarked, which is owned by the MK Development Partnership (MKDP).

But the change in numbers appears to have happened without the knowledge of businesses or residents, many of whom backed this newspaper's Fair Parking campaign calling for more spaces at fairer prices.

As part of its budget proposals in November, Labour said it 'had listened to public concerns' and was 'acting immediately' to provide the 2,000 spaces, which would be funded through increasing parking charges.

But Cllr Matt Clifton, cabinet member responsible for parking, has hit back saying the Labour administration only promised to create 1,000 parking spaces in the financial year between April and March 2016.

Now he says the council is still searching for land – but parking charges have been increased anyway.

Ms Beck said: "They've now said they are looking at other areas in the city and have downgraded it to 1,000 spaces in the current financial year.

"The MKDP land is a significant investment opportunity and they are worried they might have to withdraw from land quickly if developers express an interest, which is understandable. But I think we have to look at income streams from parking and find a way to build a multi-storey car park on land near the station, which has recently been returned to MKDP from a long lease with London Midland. This would help ease pressure around the station."

But Cllr Clifton said: "We said we would try to deliver 1,000 parking spaces this financial year – and I believe we are on target to do that.

"I don't want to pre-empt or cause any embarrassment by naming sites if they don't come off, but officers are working on identifying sites."

Revived plans make a splash with residents

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A PROPOSED splash park for West Bletchley could be back on the cards after previously being dismissed.

West Bletchley Council first explored the possibility of establishing a splash park – which would include a number of different water features – at Rickley Park in September 2013.

But the council rejected the scheme in April 2014, declaring the Rickley Park site as 'unviable' due to parking problems.

But at a meeting on August 18, residents presented a petition to the council, containing 240 names, requesting it note the strength of local opinion in favour of the splash park and to reconsider.

And it looks like the council has done just that – MK NEWS can reveal.

At a meeting of its community committee, held on June 1 at the council's offices in Whaddon Way, the idea of putting the splash park at Windmill Hill Golf Centre in Tattenhoe Lane was explored.

It is thought the golf centre could provide parking for the facility, which would need space for around 60 cars.

The authority is now set to ask Milton Keynes Council, which runs the golf centre, whether it would consider putting a splash park on the site.

Councillor Liz Campbell, chairman of the community committee, told MK NEWS: "Windmill Hill came back as the most likely destination, as it has toilets, a cafe and lots of parking – although it has to be stressed this is far from a done deal.

"The splash park would be the only one in Milton Keynes and there is a definite gap in the market for something like this.

"It's not just people in West Bletchley who want to see this happen, I think most of Milton Keynes would want to visit it as well."

The authority will now officially write to Milton Keynes Council, which declined to comment as it has not yet been contacted by West Bletchley.

Riley has his wish granted

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Riley Marriner-Knights from Wolverton had his dream come true when he got to meet Spiderman at Disney World, Orlando.

Riley, who has cystic fibrosis, had his dearest wish granted by Starlight Children's Foundation – a wish-granting charity for children and young people with serious and terminal illnesses.

As a result of his condition, the youngster has to take lots of medication and requires daily physio.

Riley's mum Kelly said: "Riley is an inspiration. He goes through so much on a daily basis yet he's always full of life and laughter. It was magical to see his reaction when he met Spiderman."

Petition against increased bus fares for kids

ANGRY mothers have set up an online petition protesting against a huge hike in children's bus fares.

On June 28, the prices are set to double and Chantel Stace is one of more than 1,000 people who have signed it.

She said: "How are parents meant to afford to send our kids to school if the bus fare doubles in price?"

Cllr Matt Clifton, the cabinet member responsible for public transport, said: "There is still a 50 per cent subsidy which is not statutory, but unfortunately we have to make tough decisions with savings."

Trio set to tackle Race for Life

THE Angels are back – but this time with plenty of pink mesh, accessories and running shoes for the Milton Keynes Race for Life on Sunday, June 28.

Christy's Angels – Deborah Cross, 40, Natasha Booluck, 30, and Sandra Breeze, 42 – created their name from the company they work for, Christy Media Solutions in Linford Wood. The tutu-wearing trio's lives have been affected by cancer.

Deborah, from Grange Farm, was 11 when she lost her 57-year-old mother, Jan, to lung cancer.

The mother-of-three, who has completed seven Race for Life events, said: "My auntie and my father raised me. I was fortunate enough to have a supportive family. I enjoy running so it's a great way to give something to Cancer Research UK. Hopefully, our colleagues from the office and family will cheer us on."

Arsonists strike 21 times in MK

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes is suffering from a spate of arson attacks – with 21 incidents over the last month.

The most recent incidents included a derelict building being set on fire in Tattenhoe on Saturday.

Eaglestone has suffered from the worst of these attacks as two taxi drivers were left without their cars when three vehicles were set alight in the space of 20 minutes last month.

Tony Mercer, a former Eaglestone Residents' Association chairman, has lived on the estate since 1980 and said arson was a problem there.

The 71-year-old said: "I'm disgusted. We have had arson on this estate many times and it puts its ugly head up every so often."

Thames Valley Police is investigating some of the incidents, including one on May 25 when four vehicles were damaged by fire in Horners Croft, Wolverton. Two men, aged 19 and 20, and a woman, 21, were arrested on suspicion of arson.

A man, 19, was arrested on June 8 on suspicion of arson with intent over a house fire in Tattenhoe Lane, Bletchley, on June 7.

Jake Regan, 19, of Temple Street, Llandrindod Wells, was convicted of attempted arson with intent to endanger life on Monday after trying to start a fire at the BP Express service station in Aylesbury Street, Bletchley, on June 8. He is due to be sentenced on August 3.

PC James Macaro said: "Thames Valley Police investigates all arson or attempted arson offences thoroughly."

Man fined for dumping car

A MAN has been made to pay nearly £1,500 in fines, costs and compensation after dumping his car by a bus stop.

Lee Bailey, 46, of Oldbrook Boulevard, Oldbrook, was found guilty in his absence by Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Friday for abandoning a Ford Focus at the bus stop in Evans Gate in Oldbrook. Why not slow down?

I WONDER how much of the picture we were seeing when J Langford described the man being thrown from his bike and his difficulty standing up afterwards (Letters, MK NEWS, June 10).

If he was in such a state, how fast was he going? Did he not see the dog ahead on the path? If he did, why didn't he slow down if the dog wasn't on a lead? Did he have a bell on his bike? If not, why not? It's quite a simple thing and lets others know you are approaching.

I've lost count of the times bikes have come tearing up behind me, even the dog hasn't heard. They speed along as if they are in the Tour de France.

People, dogs and bikes all share the redways but there are some inconsiderate users. If you are on a bike slow down. If you want to go fast use the roads.

I am always on the look out for cyclists behind and ahead of me and if I see one I make my dog sit on the side until they have passed.

A few times I've had bikes crash into my dog and she's been the one hurt, not the cyclist.

Redways are for all

I READ with anger and disgust about the man complaining about dogs and their owners.

I am sorry the man got hurt, but it is only a matter of time until a cyclist seriously injures someone on the redways.

I am a dog owner and was also a dog trainer. I am disabled and have to use a disability scooter. I go along the redway three times a day with my two border collies and every day I have Lycra clad idiots on bikes belting along not looking were they are going.

All they seem to care about is how fast they are racing. No bell, no warning, just racing along as fast as they can.

I do look after my dogs and do move them only so they do not get run over or hurt. Some cyclists even ride three abreast and still expect us to move.

What about the children, the elderly or disabled who can't move out of the way fast enough? What about the original redway called the railway walk?

When will the council put a cycle speed limit on the redway so we can all be treated as equal, after all the redway is for all not just cycles?

A new Enigma film? I think I've cracked it

MUCH has been written about the quite incredible work undertaken by the men and women who worked at Bletchley Park during the war.

Three notable films have also been made, including U-571, the historically-inaccurate movie of how the Allied forces came to be in possession of the Enigma coding machine, seized from a captured U-boat submarine. This movie, bizarrely, starred Jon Bon Jovi in the biggest acting role of his career.

A year later, in 2001, we had Enigma, starring a ditzy Kate Winslet in a slightly more accurate portrayal of events. This movie was produced and financed by Rolling Stone Mick Jagger. The most surprising element was they chose to film all the exterior locations at Chicheley Hall near Newport Pagnell, rather than the Mansion House at Bletchley Park.

Benedict Cumberbatch as Alan Turing in The Imitation Game

The most recent, and perhaps most compelling, movie to tell the story of the codebreakers is The Imitation Game, starring Benedict Cumberbatch as Alan Turing.

It's a movie I meant to see at the cinema, but finally caught up with it on DVD at the weekend.

A fantastic film telling an incredible story which leaves everyone asking 'What computing advances would Turing have made if he hadn't taken his own life?'

Back in 2000, there was an audacious theft at Bletchley Park when the original Enigma machine was stolen and ransom notes were sent to the BBC.

This, too, was an amazing part of Bletchley Park's history.

I was the media manager for Thames Valley Police at the time of the theft and co-ordinated media appeals.

Think I have an idea for a new Bletchley Park movie, perhaps with Colin Firth playing the dashing press officer…just a thought!

Having a ball for Hollie

A BEST of British ball held on Saturday raised more than £12,000 for charity.

The event, organised by the Hope for Hollie Foundation, saw 220 guests entertained by 2013 X Factor winner Sam Bailey at the DoubleTree by Hilton at stadiummk.

Money raised on the evening for the foundation, which is MK NEWS and MKWeb's charity of the year, will help fund a family officer and grant funding for support and research into Niemann Pick Type C (NP-C) – a rare, incurable disease suffered by 10-year-old Hollie Carter from Shenley Brook End.

Imagine, a film about a young girl called Millie and her struggles with NP-C directed by Carl Mason, 17, was also premiered on the night.

Hollie's mum Helen said: "It was one of the best balls we've held and the feedback has been outstanding."

Man fined over nuisance hedge

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN is hundreds of pounds out of pocket after becoming the first person to be prosecuted by Milton Keynes Council for having a 'nuisance hedge'.

Dr Andrew Edmonds failed to heed council warnings to keep his evergreen trees trimmed to a height of 6.5 metres at his home in Station Road, Woburn Sands.

Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court heard on Friday, Edmonds was first warned by the council in 2009 that the trees were blocking light coming into a neighbour's garden. But he didn't comply with the notice so, in February 2010, the council took action to trim the hedge itself.

But the court heard he continued to fail to keep it trimmed and by November 2014 it was more than twice the allowed height.

The court found Edmonds guilty of failing to comply with the council's notice and fined him £600, with a £60 victim surcharge. He was also ordered to pay the council's legal costs of £811.69, bringing the total he will have to pay to £1,461.69.

The case was heard in the absence of Edmonds and when MK NEWS visited his house on Monday he seemed surprised to learn he had fined, though he refused to comment.

A council enforcement spokesman said: "We were forced to bring this prosecution because the harm to the neighbour's garden was increasing and it was clear Dr Edmonds had no intention of complying with the notice.

"Hopefully, the conviction will mean the hedge will not exceed the approved height in the future and neighbours will once again be able to enjoy their garden."

Creepy-crawlies: These pictures of the black and yellow spiders were sent to us by Lorraine Chapman, top, and Colin Rayment

Spiderling invasion hits city

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

IF YOU have a fear of spiders, it's probably best to look away now.

Milton Keynes is the latest place in the UK suffering from an invasion of yellow spiders.

Clusters of hundreds of tiny yellow and black creepy-crawlies have started to appear all over the city.

The spiderlings have been spotted in a variety of places around the home, including walls, bins and even car door handles.

After MK NEWS reported that clusters of these brightly-coloured hatchlings had been spotted across the country, readers sent in their videos and pictures of the creepy-crawlies in their homes and gardens.

On our Facebook page Lesley Chattaway said: "I have found loads of them in my garden pots."

Belinda Wilson added: "My car door was covered in them last week!"

Tammy Rath told us she 'found a few on her jacket' when she was sitting in a friend's garden, while Chris Snook said: "We get them every year. They were in the garden at the weekend."

Called garden spiders, these tiny hatchlings emerge at this time of year but are set to get much, much bigger.

The creepy-crawlies are born in batches of 300 to 800 each autumn.

Once hatched, the spiderlings remain clustered together for protection.

According to the British Arachnological Society, if disturbed the bundle of babies will 'explode', with individual spiderlings dispersing away from each other on tiny silken safety lines. Once the danger has passed, they climb back up the web and form a clump again.

To the majority of insects, an adult garden spider is a deadly predator. Humans can breathe a collective sigh of relief though, as the recent spider invasion is not considered to pose a threat.

People rally to save festival

MK NEWS readers have rallied to try to save a popular festival from being scrapped.

Great Linford Waterside Festival had to be cancelled this year as there were not enough volunteers to run it. There are fears that unless at least six people come forward to run the 2016 show, that will be in doubt as well.

Several readers contacted us on our Facebook page about this year's event being called off with Janey Chandler saying: "I'm sure if they had got the word around a lot of people would have got involved."

Deborah Cooper, chairman of the trustees that organise the festival, said the group has been looking for volunteers for years.

Fines for illegal advertising

A MILTON Keynes company and its director have been ordered to pay more than £6,700 after posting signs and posters across the city.

Intercapital Associates Ltd of Sovereign Court, Central Milton Keynes, and director Anthony Jones of Tamworth, were found guilty of seven offences of illegal advertising by Milton Keynes magistrates last week.

The firm and director were fined £2,100 and £2,800 and ordered to pay £500 and £1,261.86 respectively towards the council's legal costs.

The WI members get on the coach to the garden party

A 'wonderful day' at Buckingham Palace

MEMBERS of Milton Keynes' Women's Institute groups were invited to Buckingham Palace.

Rita Worden, 73, attended the garden party hosted by the Duchess of Cornwall on June 2.

The Bletchley WI member said: "It was a really wonderful day."

Newton Leys member, Susan Appleby, 58, added: "It was just really exciting to be there. We have all seen it on television but to go was amazing."

WI request for a centenary pillar

BY SAMANTHA BOOTH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE Women's Institute celebrates its 100th anniversary in September and the groups in Milton Keynes are making plans to mark the milestone.

Plans have been submitted to the MK Rose committee for a pillar at the place for reflection in Campbell Park.

Carol Jeffery, secretary of the Bletchley evening group, entered the application to raise awareness of the society and the impact it has had on the community.

She said: "I entered this on behalf of our group and all women in and around Milton Keynes. The pillar will show the importance of WI groups.

"It will be nice if you are going for a walk in the park to see local women commemorated."

Meanwhile, Milton Keynes Museum will be hosting a summer exhibition about the work groups have carried out in the area. There are about 20 WI groups in the Milton Keynes area.

A main display in the Exhibition Room will contain memorabilia and information about local women who have been in the WI over the years.

There will also be a timeline around the Granary Tea Rooms listing the important events of the WI from the last 100 years.

The exhibition will run from July 1 until August 31. WI members will be eligible for discount tickets at £5. Groups are also invited to visit at £4.50 per person.

We'll spruce up city underpass

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

MK NEWS has undertaken a whistle stop tour of the city to find underpasses in need of a makeover.

As part of this newspaper's Walk Safe campaign, we will be working with Milton Keynes Council to spruce up one underpass to make it a more pleasant environment for people as they make their way to work, nip to the shops or enjoy a leisurely walk across the city.

To get things started, we took a tour of the underpasses to see which ones may benefit from some work.

They include those in Conniburrow, Oldbrook, Crownhill, Stantonbury and Woolstone – you can see the full list at mkweb.co.uk/news

A council spokesman said: "We want to encourage people to use the underpasses and redways and we welcome feedback on this."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Dog owners told to pick up mess

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

DOG owners are being urged to pick up after their pets after 120 piles of poo were cleared from a redway.

Residents are still complaining about 'the poo path' off Colesbourne Drive leading to the canal in Downhead Park after the big clear-up.

One resident, who regularly walks their dogs on that route and clears up others' mess, said: "Irresponsible dog owners just don't care."

A spokesman for Great Linford Parish Council added: "People wouldn't leave their children's nappies on the path so why leave their dogs' mess?"

The council told MK NEWS that 115 piles of poo were sprayed red to highlight the problem in October. After being sprayed they were collected. By the end of October the number had reduced to 18, but the council says there are still offenders.

The spokesman added: "If the problem persists, Milton Keynes Council enforcement officers will be asked to review the situation and evidence will be provided to them. All witnessed incidents of dog fouling are reported.

"Everyone in our community needs to make it known that it's not acceptable to foul the area."

Man found guilty of sex assault on train

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN has been given a suspended prison sentence after sexually assaulting a 25-year-old woman on a train.

Bader Jilani, 36, of Lonsdale, Wolverton, was found guilty of one count of sexual assault by a jury at Aylesbury Crown Court.

The court heard the woman was travelling home to Northampton on the 6.49pm London Euston to Birmingham New Street service on Wednesday, August 13, 2014 when she fell asleep.

When she awoke, she found Jilani indecently touching her under a coat he placed across them. The assault stopped when she challenged him. She then got off the train at Milton Keynes to raise the alarm.

Sergeant Mark Summerfield, of British Transport Police, said: "This was a predatory and deeply unpleasant sexual assault. Jilani took advantage of the enclosed environment of a train carriage to prey on a vulnerable young woman for his own sexual gratification.

"The emotional impact of this offence on the woman should not be underestimated. I would like to thank her for having the confidence to report this to the police and for her co-operation throughout our investigation."

Jilani was sentenced to six months imprisonment, suspended for two years, and ordered to carry out 200 hours unpaid work.

He also received a 12-month supervision order, will be on the sex offenders register for seven years and was ordered to pay £3,500 costs.

Commendations

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE officers and members of the public were honoured for their heroic acts at a ceremony on Thursday.

Mayor of Milton Keynes Keith McLean and Assistant Chief Constable for Thames Valley Police Alan Baldwin handed commendations to 14 recipients for their bravery and selfless actions.

The ceremony, held at Milton Keynes Police Station, was hosted by Superintendent Gez Chiariello, who said: "We are blessed in Milton Keynes that there is a real sense of community spirit."

One recipient was Carole Davies, 61, from Oldbrook, who saved a girl who looked set to jump from a bridge in November. Carole was walking her dog when she saw the incident unfolding.

"I just grabbed her. It was horrible, I knew I was trying to do the right thing but I was getting panicky, I could feel her slipping and I grabbed her off the railings.

"I just cuddled her and spoke to her. I must have been on the bridge with her for about half an hour until the police come and then I sat in the car with her for about half an hour.

"When I was walking home, I just started crying."

Benn Bowen and his friend Jonathan Hamilton were also recipients of commendations for helping a mum and her daughter who were being attacked by a dog.

Mr Bowen, 31, from New Bradwell distracted the dog while his friend stood between them and the hound.

He said: "I feel we would have done what any other person would have done in that situation.

"It was just instinct; that

Police Constable Nic Grima collected two awards during the ceremony, firstly for administering CPR on an unconscious male at a probation hostel who had taken an overdose.

His second commendation came after preventing a women jumping off a roof at Milton Keynes University Hospital.

PC Grima said: "I don't expect to be recognised because I get paid to do this and protect the public.

LUTON BOROUGH COUNCIL

HOW YOU CAN USE YOUR PENSION TO ELIMIATE INHERITANCE TAX ON YOUR DEATH

Since 6 April this year we have a new pensions regime in place known as Pension Freedom the major advantage of which is the ability for savers to access their money purchase pensions 100%.

One of the biggest benefits is the new ability to pass on pension assets outside of the saver's estate for Inheritance Tax purposes. This means that overnight pensions offer wealthier people a tremendous opportunity to legally avoid Inheritance Tax!

The following 6 steps show how anyone with a pension and whose total assets exceed the tax free Nil Rate Band of £325K (£650K for a married couple) can reduce the effect of death taxes by simply rearranging their assets and prioritising their spending.

1. Maximise your pension contributions.

The current annual contribution allowance is £40K but you can use the last 3 years' unused contributions and make a larger contribution in the current tax year as long as you have the earned income to support the payment.

2. Beware of the Lifetime Allowance limit

Not only is there a contribution limit but also an overall cap on how much you can have in your pension of £1.25m which falls to £1m from 6.4.16. The tax penalty on exceeding this limit are high. So make sure you are not in danger of exceeding this limit.

Tony Byrne
Financial Planning Director
Wealth And Tax Management

3. Make sure you can live on your non-pension assets

When you die you want to minimise your non-pension assets above the tax free £325K Nil Rate Band (£650K for married couples). You could use savings and investments to generate income rather than your pension.

4. Consider giving away assets

If your pension is well funded and you have sufficient non-pension income to live on, think of reducing IHT by giving assets away. This will reduce your IHT further.

1. Consider Inheritance Tax efficient investments

Some investments become 100% Inheritance Tax free after 2 years because they qualify for a tax relief known as Business Property Relief. You need to take advice on these investments because they are high risk.

2. Write a will

It is vitally important to at least draft a will. You should regularly review and update your pension death benefits nomination too.

Rival player steps up to wicket after theft

Bowled up: Richard Bryce, who stepped in to help a rival cricket team, with his mower

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes Cricket Club called on the services of an opposition player to cut the wicket at the weekend after thousands of pounds worth of lawn mowing equipment was stolen.

North Crawley player Richard Bryce – who played for Milton Keynes for 25 years, 15 of those as captain – cut the grass on Friday night, only for the top of the table clash to be cancelled on Saturday due to rain.

Last Monday, Milton Keynes Cricket Club had three pitch lawn mowers stolen, along with petrol cans, hoses and other gardening equipment.

Ed Page, the club's welfare officer, said: "We are a bunch of volunteers, the main bit of kit stolen was a specialist mower, which was bought with National Lottery funded money.

"We had used it for two weeks, it was a massive blow when we found out because it took a lot of people a lot of effort to secure the funding and these sorts of incidents kill voluntary spirit.

"Anyone who knows local cricket knows Richard and goes to him for advice and we had to go cap in hand to him to ask him to mow our wicket."

Richard, 51, from Red House Park, is the owner of Sports Ground Services, which maintains and develops a number of sporting surfaces, including bowling greens, cricket pitches and school fields.

"I had a call from the club chairman. I knew I couldn't leave them in trouble so I just came up and cut the pitch. My son, who also plays for North Crawley, helped.

"They, like us, work hard for money, we know what we have to raise each year and we just felt sorry for them and had to help them out."

Have any bobby dazzlers to sell?

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

IF YOU want some of your gems valued get yourself to Stantonbury Leisure Centre next month when an episode of popular antiques show Dickinson's Real Deal will be filmed.

David Dickinson will be looking at items and offering his expert opinion on Saturday, July 11.

The show regularly has more than 500 people turn up for recordings. Some items have fetched thousands of pounds, while others have turned out to be worth just a few pence.

The ITV show, which is now in its 12th series, invites people to sell their 'bobby dazzlers' on the spot or take them to auction.

A spokesman for the leisure centre said: "Stantonbury Arts & Leisure Trust is delighted to be welcoming the Dickinson's Real Deal team to the leisure centre to film a Milton Keynes-based episode of the hugely popular programme, and of course meet its effervescent presenter David Dickinson.

The Real Deal: Stantonbury Leisure Centre staff are gearing up for filming with David Dickinson, inset, in the sports hall in July

"The newly-formed trust which incorporates the Stantonbury Leisure Centre, Stantonbury Theatre and members' gym GYMMK, is very keen to develop the event and exhibition side of the business as it brings more leisure activities to local people and Milton Keynes, as part of the continuing expansion and development of the city."

If you want to get your collectables valued then head to the venue on between 9am and 5pm.

You don't need to book a place and entry is free.

News team takes

BY NEVILLE WILSON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

SWELTERING, spluttering, coughing, looking generally uncomfortable – revenge was a dish served brutally hot on this occasion.

Since his arrival at MK NEWS, Jack has sought to establish himself as something of an office comedian, using my comparative advanced years and the emergence of grey hairs, as his inspiration. So, when word of the Chicken Wing Challenge drifted through the newsroom, I knew this was my chance.

My eyes met Jack's as the countdown began. I love spicy food and had remained modestly quiet up until now...I was scooping up leftover sauce with a fork as Jack crawled over the line, a shivering, shell of a man.

House rules decreed we had five minutes before we were permitted water, time I used to get to work on Jack's left-overs (first rule of journalism – make the most of free meals) and rub his nose in it (metaphorically, sadly).

A delicious dish, a beautiful blend of herbs and spices, and a wonderful, lasting warmth that only sweet revenge can provide.

Coming in at a red hot one million on the Scoville scale, the B-Town Chicken Wing Challenge requires you to eat six chicken wings slathered in sauce in three minutes

The Chicken Wing Challenge

Challenge: Six chicken wings
Time: Three minutes, plus a five minute cooling period
Scoville scale: Measures the heat of chilli peppers in units.

on wings of fire

The Chicken Wing Challenge measures 1million on the Scoville scale
Comparison: Your every day bell pepper is zero on the scale, while the hottest pepper in the world is the Carolina Reaper, which has a score of 1.56million

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

I'M HAPPY to try hot food – whether curry or a chilli con carne – but these wings were out of this world.

Three bites into the challenge, I felt I was in a good place – I had sauce all over my face and looked a little dishevelled but everything was in hand.

But then it hit. The spice burns anything it touches and there was a real pain in my stomach.

I was up to my elbows in this red hot lava sauce, the scene was full of chicken bones and potatoes wedges – I was in a real state.

My colleague on the other hand was sailing through as if it was a bowl of flavourless, heatless tepid porridge.

The five-minute cooling off period dragged as much as I expected it would and the welcome klaxon to indicate I could have water and yoghurt signalled a pig in a trough like situation.

I couldn't get the sauce off my face fast enough and water simply was not easing the pain as quickly I would have liked.

The challenge really does test your mettle but well worth a try.

Now it was the waiting game to see what the next 12 to 24 hours had in store for my bowels...

Art in the Park returns to city

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

PREPARATIONS for the fifth Art in the Park festival are in full swing and this year's event is set be the biggest yet.

The event, organised by Milton Keynes Islamic Arts and Heritage Culture (MKIAC), is aspiring to be as big as Notting Hill Carnival and there are a host of activities planned.

The centrepiece will be an explosion of colour as a parade celebrating diverse culture makes its way through the city centre.

The event, which is designed for families, will feature musicians and visual artists from around the world, digital art, storytelling, competitions and workshops in Campbell Park.

Anouar Kassim, director of MKIAC, said: "I would like to invite you all to be part of this extraordinary, inspiring and creative journey that brings our diverse community together in a variety of events."

Following its debut last year, the Art of Food Festival returns with demonstrations and a competition judged by television chef Cyrus Todiwala OBE.

There will also be a photography competition for MK College students with prizes on offer from Fuji.

Ahead of the contest the students will have a number of masterclasses with internationally renowned photographer Peter Sanders.

MK NEWS and MKWeb, which is supporting the festival, will also be helping to judge the competitions.

The event will take place on July 18 and 19 from 1-7pm. The organisers are still looking for volunteers to help out. Anyone interested can email anouar.kassim@mkiac.org

Joe and Joe Jnr enjoying ham, jam, Camelot and Spamalot

JOE Pasquale is loving every bit of his involvement in the Spamalot production that's at Milton Keynes Theatre this week.

Not only is he performing in a musical written by one of his comedy idols, he also has his son Joe Tracini on stage to keep him company.

"It's nice to have him around because they normally leave home and bugger off," laughs Joe, who says he has known Joe Jnr for 28 years!

Spamalot is the Eric Idle musical based on the successful Monty Python film The Holy Grail which focusses on King Arthur and his knights.

The guys like to eat ham, jam and spamalot, but a fine banquet isn't why the stand-up comedian got involved in the project.

He said: "I grew up with that kind of comedy, and when I was 12/13 and that film came out I suppose I was their target audience. They were the first, along with The Goodies, to do that style and they changed the face of British comedy. But you don't have to be a Monty Python fan to enjoy the show. It's two hours of non-stop laughter."

While Joe takes on the character of King Arthur, his son plays the role of Patsy.

The role largely involves him pretending to be on horseback and playing around with coconuts – in what is more a physically funny role than a vocal part.

"I've only got nine lines," Joe Jnr laughs as he speaks to MK LIFE. "But it's the same with any role, you have to do something with it. I enjoy working with dad, we've always been friends as well as father and son."

Spamalot takes place at Milton Keynes Theatre every night at 7.30pm until Saturday. There are also matinee performances at 2.30pm tonight and on Saturday.

No doubt your feet will be tapping as you're listening to the great music on offer and there may even be a chance for you to join in.

The event takes place on Saturday from 7pm. Tickets cost £8, or £6.50 for concessions, from www.stantonburytheatre.co.uk

MusicMakers meet every Thursday evening in Stony Stratford. The Wendy Kitchings Dancers meet on Tuesdays and Fridays at the Kingston Gymnastic Centre.

YOU can't afford to slack on garden maintenence, writes JAMES FROST, managing director of Frost's Garden Centre in Woburn Sands

WE ARE now in summer, a busy time in the garden.

To ensure continuous flowering, dead head on a regular basis and keep them watered in very dry periods.

Some varieties of basket plants start to look tired at this point in the summer. Cut them back with scissors and water and feed them to encourage a new batch of flowers. This works particularly well with plants such as bacopa (sutera), bidens, diasica and petunia.

In the vegetable garden you should be harvesting crops as and when they become available. This is really important with crops such as peas, beans and courgettes, which need picking regularly when young to get the best flavour and stop them becoming tough.

Herbaceous plants such as delphinium, geranium, salvia and astrantia can be cut back after their first flush of flowers to encourage fresh growth – some water and liquid feed will help if the weather is very dry.

If you did not get chance to feed your lawn in spring, now is the time to give it some liquid lawn food to encourage fresh growth. Any weeds can be treated with a proprietary lawn weed killer.

New for 2015, you'll find Jungle Falls – a set of giant waterslides giving families a wild ride in Milton Keynes.

With free parking all day, every day and a host of soft play areas, interactive shows, activities and entertainment on offer too, there's more to Gulliver's than meets the eye.

Acts include world class jazz vocalist Elaine Delmar who will deliver gems from The Great American Songbook at 11.30am on Saturday. Tickets cost £12.

At 2.30pm on Sunday, one of Ireland's leading songwriters Kieran Goss returns to the venue.

endakenny

IF YOU enjoy a night of good folk music laced with bit of the old Blarney, then Irish-born singer and songwriter Enda Kenny is just right for you.

Now living in Melbourne, Enda has trotted the globe and is appearing at The Songloft in Stony Stratford on Friday.

His thoughtful, descriptive stories of his adoptive land have struck a chord with festival audiences all over Australia and his live performances are always memorable and spiced with plenty of humour.

Having spent a decade or so juggling performance with a working career, Enda returned to full-time music in 2013 and launched his album Heart Tattoo in November last year.

A multi award-winning songwriter and twice winner of the Port Fairy Folk Festival song writing award, Enda's recent compositions highlight his quirky sense of humour and add to an already impressive catalogue of songs.

Tickets are available on the door for £7. Doors open at 8.15pm.

innerwisdom

What Your Agent Has To Say

Great way to get on the property ladder

MOST parents want to leave something for their children when they are gone. They invest in property with a pension or an inheritance in mind.

However, a recent trend amongst retired home owners whose children struggle to purchase their own home is to sell the family home to them at full market value and gift them the deposit from the equity in the property.

How does this work?

Bill and Tim are both single and between them only earn enough to qualify for a £125,000 mortgage. They have £5,000 in savings, nowhere near the £125,000 deposit needed to purchase Mum and Dad's house, which has recently been valued at £250,000.

Mum and Dad are retired and their mortgage is paid off. As the vendors, they decide to give their sons the deposit of £125,000, from the sale of their home. So when the sale completes Bill and Tim have a house worth £250,000 with a £125,000 mortgage and mum and dad get £125,000 in their pocket.

Everyone benefits. The kids get a foot on the property ladder, mum and dad can stop worrying and retire somewhere warm where £125,000 will buy them a comfortable home. And, in the very far distant future, Bill and Tim save some money on a possible inheritance tax bill.

Sounds simple? It is when you know what you're doing. Come and see us for a no obligation free consultation at 390a Leagrave Road, Luton LU3 1RG or call us on 01582 700388 (visit our website at www.carpathianfinance.co.uk)

Introducing The New Renault Kadjar

Renault's new C-segment crossover, the All-New Kadjar, will be priced from just £17,995 when it reaches UK showrooms in September this year. Kadjar, which was revealed at the Geneva Motor Show in March 2015, will complement Renault's hugely successful B-segment crossover, Captur.

Kadjar is being offered in an 18-version line-up based on four trim lines familiar to owners of other Renault vehicles – Expression+, Dynamique Nav, Dynamique S Nav and Signature Nav. All provide a comprehensive standard specification, rising to the truly luxurious at the top-of-the-range. Renault's fabled active and passive safety has been democratically applied across the range, while connectivity via the easy-to-use R-Link 2 system is fitted to all models above Expression+.

Standard safety features include ABS with Electronic Brake-force Distribution, electronic stability control with traction and understeer control, cruise control, speed limiter, Hill Start Assist, six airbags, seat belts with load limiters and pretensioners at the front, side impact protection bars and ISOFIX child-seat mounting points on the two outer rear seats.

All versions have gravel, dust and rain protection kits, while for comfort and convenience there is an accessory power point, a 12-volt front socket, a trip computer, two-way adjustable steering column and an exterior temperature indicator.

Core features on Expression+ include an automatic electronic parking brake, front foglights, LED daytime running lamps, tinted windows, the 7-inch TFT instrument panel with digital speedometer, all-round electric windows, driver's seat height adjustment, air conditioning, Bluetooth, a USB socket and a 4 x 20W DAB radio with fingertip controls and an AUX input.

Dynamique Nav adds to this with 17-inch alloy wheels, a cornering function on the front foglights, chrome exterior detailing, extra-tinted rear and tailgate windows, hands-free keycard, automatic door locking, dual-zone climate control, automatic lights and wipers, the Visio system (lane departure warning, traffic sign recognition and automatic headlight beam adjustment), leather-rimmed steering wheel, driver's seat lumbar adjustment, a 4 x 35W Arkamys 3D digital audio system and the R-Link 2 multimedia system including Navigation and European mapping.

This is further enhanced on Dynamique S Nav with 19-inch diamond-cut alloys, front and rear parking sensors, leather and cloth upholstery, passenger seat height adjustment, one-touch easy-folding rear bench, electrically adjustable and heated door mirrors and the multi-position boot floor.

Finally, there is Signature Nav featuring exclusive 19-inch diamond-cut alloys, full LED headlights, a panoramic sunroof, painted front and rear skid plates, side and boot kick plates, 'Signature' cloth and leather upholstery with a Nappa leather steering wheel, a height-adjustable passenger seat and the BOSE Energy Efficient eight-speaker sound system including sub-woofer.

Kadjar allows a significant level of personalisation through individual options and cost-saving packages. There are seven themed high-value equipment packages, depending on model.

The Climate Pack for Expression+ delivers automatic dual-zone climate control and automatic headlights and wipers. The Parking Pack on Dynamique Nav adds front and rear parking sensors and electrically adjustable heated and folding door mirrors. For Signature Nav, the Parking Pack Premium includes Park Assist (Handsfree parking and rear parking camera); the Safety Pack Premium adds blind spot warning and automatic emergency braking; while the Techno Pack Premium includes all these options. The one-touch easy rear-seat folding system is offered in the Dynamique Nav's Convenience Pack, while leather seats with height adjustment and seat heating make up the Leather Pack for Signature Nav.

The three engines on offer are the 1.2-litre turbocharged TCe 130 hp four-cylinder direct-injection petrol unit, the 1.5-litre ENERGY dCi 110 hp four-cylinder diesel and the 1.6-litre ENERGY dCi four-cylinder 130 hp diesel. An Efficient Dual Clutch (EDC) automatic gearbox is available with the dCi 110 engine. Intelligent four-wheel drive with three operating modes – Auto, LOCK and 2WD –is offered with the dCi 130 in the three upper trim levels.

The three engines, two gearboxes and two drive systems offer fuel economy of up to 74.3mpg, with CO2 emissions as low as 99g/km. Contributors to this are the sleek shape and low weight of the car (from 1,306kg); the Renault engine Stop&Start system, which is standard on all manual models; the double-clutch EDC transmission in place of a more fuel-sapping torque converter system; an ECO driving mode which optimises the engine's performance when cruising; the Renault Driving eco2 feature to help owners adopt a more economical driving style; and standard brake energy recovery.

All versions provide the peace of mind of Renault's 4+ warranty and assistance package. The car is protected against defects recognised by Renault for four years or 100,000 miles (first two years have no mileage limit). In the event of a breakdown, Renault provides emergency roadside repairs or towing to the nearest dealer 24/7 every day of the year, plus three years' European cover. There is also a three-year paint warranty and 12 years' cover against corrosion. Servicing is required once a year or every 18,000 miles. UK order books open in July, with first deliveries expected in late September.

Suzuki Celerio

THE HARD CEL

The Suzuki Celerio aims to offer the interior space of the Splash with the price and economy of the Alto. Such attempts are usually doomed to failure, but the Celerio, with its perky 1.0-litre three cylinder engines, big spec list and optional AGS transmission, looks to be made of all the right stuff.

The core engine in the Celerio range is a 1.0-litre three-cylinder petrol unit developing a total of 66bhp at 6,000rpm and 89Nm of torque at 3,500rpm, so you're going to need to give the throttle pedal a bit of treatment to get anywhere. Especially if you opt for it with the brand's efficient AGS automatic gearbox.

The alternative Celerio powerplant is another 1.0-litre petrol unit with the same output, this one using Suzuki's more efficient Dualjet technology. Power goes to the front wheels via a five-speed manual gearbox at first, but we suspect that most UK buyers will want to talk to their dealer about matching the Dualjet engine technology to Suzuki's Auto Gear Shift (AGS).

The Celerio probably isn't going to turn too many heads, being a fairly generic-looking citycar in the modern mould. That's not to say its styling lacks merit, just that it's nothing too adventurous. The most notable flourishes are probably the deeply sculpted flanks, with an arcing swage line that runs just below the door handles. The front grille is unusual, with a three-bar design that kinks upwards at each extremity into the big headlight pods.

The body measures just 3,600mm from stem to stern and 1,600mm wide, so parking it shouldn't present too much of a difficulty. A height of 1,530mm and a non-slanting roofline affords respectable headroom for occupants. The 2,425mm long wheelbase provides a tandem distance of 743mm, which gives plenty of space in the cabin for five occupants. The boot is vast for a citycar, with a capacity of 254-litres.

On to running costs. The standard 1.0-litre triple engine makes some very respectable figures, eking 65.7 miles from a gallon of unleaded and emitting just 99g/km of carbon dioxide. Go for the AGS-equipped automatic model and there's no running cost penalty.

If you're happy with a stick-shift and don't mind a modest £500 price premium, then Suzuki's more modern Dualjet 1.0-litre petrol unit is a better bet in this car. In Dualjet form, this Suzuki's combined cycle fuel consumption improves to 78.5mpg, while the CO2 return is enhanced to 84g/km. That'll make such a Celerio the cleanest and most fuel efficient new car on sale for less than £10,000.

In summary, the Suzuki Celerio is always going to be overshadowed by state of the art city slickers like the Volkswagen Up or the Renault Twingo, but it was never really designed to compete with the more high-end offerings of the citycar sector. It's easy to overlook the fact that after the Hyundai i10 and the Volkswagen Up, the biggest selling citycar in the UK in 2014 was the Suzuki Alto. The Celerio looks set to do even better than the Alto, with its super-low emissions and clever transmission.

If you want a car that is utterly no-nonsense, easy to use and which we'd bet will prove to be extremely reliable, the Celerio demonstrates that these qualities needn't cost you the earth. The fact that it's well-equipped and is incredibly cheap to run is just the icing on the cake. It might not seem an obvious hit on first acquaintance, but give this one time. We think it could be the sleeper hit of the year.

ATHLETICS

Rutherford wins again

OLYMPIAN Greg Rutherford won at his second Diamond League meet in five days with a jump of 8.25 metres in Oslo, Norway on Thursday night.

The 28-year-old jumped the winning distance on his third attempt, beating American Michael Hartfield on his way to success by 21cm.

Last weekend the athlete, who lives in Woburn Sands, recorded his longest jump on British soil at the Birmingham meet with 8.35m.

After the event in Norway, Rutherford tweeted: "Really pleased with tonight.

"It's the first time in my career I've won back-to-back Diamond League events."

It was a dominant performance by Rutherford, who was in charge throughout the contest.

When Hartfield leaped 8.04m, Rutherford responded with an 8.16m jump.

On his third effort he went 8.25m and he didn't need to jump again after that third attempt because it proved enough, although he did remain ready on the touchlines, just in case he was called into action again.

"I jumped on Sunday in Birmingham and so I wanted to monitor my body and rest after 8.25m," Rutherford told the International Association of Athletics Federation website.

Jumping for joy: Greg Rutherford in action Picture by Press Association

"I was feeling that might be good to win, but there were lots of other jumpers who could attack my position so I stayed warm and was ready if something happened."

The win was all the more impressive considering he is still on the road to recovery after suffering from a hip injury earlier this season.

He said after his leap in Birmingham last week, which produced his biggest ever jump on British soil after he went 8.35m, that his muscles felt a bit tight after the win, but it looked like that injury did not provide any hangovers as he produced yet another Diamond League success in Oslo.

The biggest event Rutherford is likely to compete in this year will be the 2015 World Championship in Athletics, which takes place at the Bird's Nest in Beijing from August 22 and is the biggest event that has taken place there since the 2008 Olympics.

For Rutherford, his form over the past two weeks can only serve to benefit him and it will certainly be a confidence-booster.

Now Rutherford is looking forward to getting back to training for a few weeks.

He said: "Now I have three good weeks of training in front of me. So far I have been very satisfied with my season."

ROWING

MK Rowers prove they are Masters

LAST weekend saw a fantastic few days of rowing as Milton Keynes Rowing club came ninth out of more than 100 clubs, winning five golds and two silvers in the British Rowing Masters Championship.

The event was hosted at the prestigious Nottingham Watersports Centre regatta lake and saw the Milton Keynes side beat the likes of Nottingham RC, Oxford Academicals RC and Henley RC.

On Saturday, both the men's and women's four boat crews came out on top with some stunning performances.

In The Women's Masters Novive four, Jayne Skeith, Katharine Billingham, Lisa Goodship, Suzanne De Maine and cox Charlotte Watts went over the line with a commanding lead for the Milton Keynes outfit.

In the men's novice four, Phil Capp, Peter Cox, Nick Hughes, James Hughesman and cox Charlotte Watts beat Lea RC and Putney Town to come out on top.

Meanwhile, on the Sunday the MK rowers continued their gold winning success starting in the Women's MastersD four.

Heidi Towse, Louise Rivett, Karen Wilson, Paula Heywood, and cox Kate Fraser lead the field, pushing across the 1k course for an imposing win.

Another gold was soon to follow for the Men's MastersA IM3 four which consisted of of James Pototsky, Nick Hughes, James Hughesman, Gavin Creech and cox Charlotte Watts.

The final gold of the weekend came in the Women's MastersC Four, Heidi Towse, Louise Rivett, Tara Adams, Jayne Skeith, and their cox Kate Fraser raced hard, beating the likes of Bewdley RC, York City RC and Evesham RC.

Club chair Louise Rivett was ecstatic with Milton Keynes' most successful British Masters Championships to date.

She said: "Fantastic results for MKRC this weekend which show the strength and depth of both women's and men's squads within the club.

"I couldn't have been more proud to see so many crews winning gold and silver medals at this prestigious, high level, national event, particularly as so many of the winners have progressed to this level within a very short time from completing our club's own learn to row programme".

MK Rowers celebrate their success

FORMULA ONE

Red Bull prepare for Austrian homecoming

THE country where it all started for Red Bull is the next location of the Formula One season, as Daniel Ricciardo and Daniil Kvyat look to put the Canadian Grand Prix behind them.

The Austrian event at the Red Bull ring is unsurprisingly one which the team looks forward to every year and this year is no exception - despite the team's performance failing to light up the world of motorsport at the moment.

Despite the name though, Daniel Ricciardo believes that the race is not one of Red Bull's best circuits to race at.

"It is not one of our strongest but good nonetheless," Ricciardo told the team's website.

"It's short, there aren't a lot of corners – but the corners that there are good.

"There are a couple of proper quick turns and plenty to catch you out.

"It's a fast track. You can have a good scrap as well."

Kvyat has raced at the track in Formula Renault and Formula Three and he cannot wait to tackle the circuit again in Spielberg.

"It's great fun to drive," said Kvyat.

"Actually, I think it's one of the best circuits on the calendar.

"It's fast, it flows well, the lap is pretty busy.

"It's a good circuit and I have good memories of it.

"It's a good atmosphere and the team's home race is obviously important.

"However, I don't think you can let it distract you. It's just racing in the end."

SPORTSSHORTS

RAIN played havoc with the schedule at the weekend as all of our local teams had games called off.

In the Four Counties League the top of the table clash between Milton Keynes and North Crawley was abandoned (see page 20 for more) as was New Bradwell's trip to Elstow and Milton Keynes City's game against Buckland and Auckland.

Wolvertown Town's Cherwell Cricket League encounter with Long Marston while table toppers Great Brickhill also had their game called off against Oxford Seconds.

ROLLER DERBY

MILTON Keynes Roller Derby's women's A team, the Concrete Cows are still looking for their first 2015 British Championships win after a 178-122 defeat to Kent Rollergirls in Herne Bay on Saturday.

Fresh off the back of their international victory against Copenhagen, the Cows started brightly, rushing into a 43-15 lead midway through the first half through clinical jamming by Rowena Fellows, Sarah Stevens and Katie Thomas. However, Kent began to find their form and the Cows found Kent's strong walls and physical blockers tough to get through. The Cows went into the half time break with a 86-58 point deficit and they went on to secure victory despite a brave performance from the Cows.

Milton Keynes Roller Derby's men's team, the Quads of War, play their fourth British Championships game on Sunday at home to Barrow Infernos at Bletchley Leisure Centre from 1.30pm, while the Cows' next Championship game is also at home, against Lincolnshire Bombers at Bletchley on Sunday August 2.

ATHLETICS

RACHEL Gibbens won gold in the high jump at the South of England Track and Field Championships at Lee Valley. Gibbens, after her successful start to the season the previous week when she cleared 3.50m in the pole vault, had to achieve 3.80m to win the ladies title. She won on count back as Jade Ive (Sutton) also cleared this height. Naomi Greener took silver in the under 20s long jump, moving up from the bronze medal position to silver with her third jump of 5.08m and a huge personal best of 48.81m from Laeken Impey saw her winning hammer bronze adding 1.36m to her PB. This distance also places Laeken fourth in the ladies all-time hammer rankings.

Marshall Milton Keynes Athletics Club runner Gary Blaber secured the best ever MK time of four hours and 10 seconds in the Dartmoor Discovery 32mile-Ultra.

Nearly 2,500 runners completed the St Albans half-marathon as Michal Glowicki finished third.

Brian Gilks, MMKAC's oldest competitive runner, improved his M80 club record for the half-marathon clocking 2:52.21 at Market Harborough, an improvement of more than four minutes.

KORFBALL

THIRTY teams have entered for Korfstock on July 11 at Bletchley Rugby Club so far. To enter a team, which costs £45 and £40 per team thereafter, email tournament@mkkorfball.co.uk.

Five gold medals for rowers in Regatta - page 63

Oh Capital!: Dons' run in the competition last season was the best in their history as AFC Wimbledon and Manchester United were put to the sword as the team reached the last 16

Capital One Cup draw made

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

MK DONS will begin another journey in the Capital One Cup with a home tie against Leyton Orient.

Last season's competition was incredible for Dons, as they put AFC Wimbledon to the sword in a 3-1 win in the first round thanks to goals from Kyle McFadzean, Daniel Powell and Benik Afobe.

In the second round Dons were drawn against Manchester United and in front of Sky cameras and 26,969 people packed into stadium:mk, the Old Trafford side were thumped 4-0 in the second round in a result which shocked the football world. Dons also went on to beat Bradford City before losing to Sheffield United in round four in what was their best ever run in the Capital One Cup.

All the Dons games in the competition were at home last season and that run has carried over into this year's Capital One Cup with the announcement that Dons will be playing League Two Orient, who were relegated from League One last season.

Dons smashed the O's 6-1 in April in a memorable performance which saw Bolton Wanderers loanee Rob Hall bag a hat-trick.

The cup draw was made between seeded and unseeded teams, with Dons being seeded. It was also divided into regions so northern and southern teams would take each other on.

Premier League teams enter the Capital One Cup in the second round, while those participating in the Champions League or the Europa League enter the competition in round three.

The game will take place in the week beginning August 10, just a few days after Dons' first game of their inaugural Championship season.

Excitement for this season's fixtures has been pretty much around since the end of last season as fans look forward to tackling some of English football's biggest teams, with the likes of Middlesbrough, Nottingham Forest and Leeds United on the agenda for next season.

Queens Park Rangers, Burnley and Hull City were plying their trade in the Premier League last season so many are looking forward to playing those teams, but the Championship is such an open league that anybody can beat anyone if it is their day.

Wolves will also be a fixture to keep an eye on as Dons come face-to-face again with fans favourite Benik Afobe, who bagged 18 goals while on loan at Dons from Arsenal last season. He moved to Molineux in January after Wolves put a bid to the Gunners for him.

Birmingham City will also be a team which fans may look out for as another former favourite Stephen Gleeson plays in central midfield for the St Andrews team.

There has been more positive news on the contract side of things for Dons this week as Antony Kay signed a one-year contract extension last Friday.

Kay was a pivotal part of a defence which manager Karl Robinson has been keen to keep in tact for this year's assault on the Championship.

Two players who could play a big part in Dons' future have also signed on the dotted line, with goalkeeper Charlie Burns signing a one-year deal, while defender Harry Hickford will stay for two more years.
